Upcoming Happenings & Events with David Hoff

May 2010

Greetings!

May, June and July appears to be full of great fun and events that I am connected with and/or sponsoring. To be sure life has been a world wind these past few weeks. In one month I was in Arizona, Florida, Illinois and Wisconsin. Oh yes, add a few teaching days in sunny California. In fact it is not over yet, I head back to Florida for a few days and when I return, I drive over to Vegas for two days of teaching the new Duncan Essentials, which I just finished writing for the Company. All and all, I'd say I was busy, and I am delighted to be working at full steam.

Club David's Fifth Anniversary

We have over one hundred members and growing. Our online club gives you a technique of the month, tips and hints regarding projects, color photos, and this year we will be adding a few special projects from other educators and artists as bonus projects. You will still receive 12 projects plus a few bonus techniques from me. Also, there are special discounts given to Club David Members. We always discount the Reno event by $25.00 for Club David Members...so, that is a savings right off the mark. Please, check the website for renewal information or call us 559 456-4726 (David) or 559 222-7694 (Sharon). Renewal may be made via pay pal, by mail, by phone and fax. Remember we take credit cards, Master Card and Visa only. Please, review the General Information about Club David and how it works. Join now and don't miss out.

Website OOPS!

As most of you know we lost the files for Club David a month ago and Sharon emailed the technique directly and May will follow shortly. With that oops prompted us to rethink many things including our website. So, first things first, Club David is going to continue and be even better than before. Now that we have video equipment we can add more extensive video clips regarding the project and the designs being presented. June 1, 2010 will start the new year for our on line Fired Arts techniques. So, it is time to renew your subscription and/or join in the fun for the first time.

Our Website is getting a NEW Look

We are in the process of redesigning the site and hopefully make it easier to navigate. We think the new look will be more 2010. So, watch for the change and we hope to have it up by the first of June or as close to that date as possible. The old site is not coming down until the new site is up and running. We will continue to update the old site until we are totally ready to launch the new www.davidhoff.com.

Webinar Wednesday

Personally I think this is the best well kept secret in the industry and is a wonderful value for your dollar. Ceramic Arts of Burlington, Ontario, Canada sponsors a group of outstanding Fired Arts Educators from all over the United States and Canada. These live video feeds are a great chance to see some of your favorite or soon to be favorite instructors in live action. I happen to be one of these instructors and my next Webinar is Wednesday the 26th of May at 6:30 p.m. pacific daylight savings time. That means 9:30 p.m. eastern daylight savings time. My topic will be More Fun with Advanced Piping Designs. We will review some of the materials we covered during the last webinar and then move on to a more detailed piece and instruction.

Ceramic Arts has been working with the educators to come up with a pricing formula that works easily and they have. Live Webinars and your permanent use of the content are now only $16.95. The $16.95 includes live viewing on Webinar Wednesday and then access to the video permanently in the Ceramic Arts Library for future viewing and repeating the project over and over again. You may also purchase from the library previously aired videos for permanent viewing at $24.95. However, you should all take advantage of the $16.95 pricing even if you miss the live feed you can still watch the entire program at your own convenience for the $16.95. To be honest, watching the live feed is best value and you have a chance to ask questions of the instructor, that he/she will answer for you right then and there. I love participating in these programs and hope you mark your calendar for Webinars on Wednesdays. Webinar Wednesday

Fired Arts Workshop

Fresno California JULY 21-24, 2010

Last year we had an AFAA event in Fresno, California that went well, but to say the least attendance was marginal. The AFAA has decided to pull back on the number of events they are going to sponsor and the Fresno location was one of those locations. So, a group of teachers decided to put together a Fired Arts Workshops event and Fresno will be the first such event. We have a website www.firedartsworkshops.com which should be up and running shortly. I have seen previews of the website and it looks wonderful with a lot of wow. Sharon is our go person for this event and will be taking in monies and working with all of the instructors Bookings can be made on line, by phone or fax. Mark your calendar and make Fresno your summertime learning experience with this event. We hope to continue sponsoring these events throughout the country and maybe even Canada.

Information & Registration Form

A couple of things you should know about our group and our event. There is no registration fees. You book your class at no extra charge to you. We will have door prizes and raffle pieces. We are having a purchased Bar B-Q at David Hoff's and we will have lunch provided for purchase each day. The raffle, dinner and lunches help us pay for the hall and to keep our class prices down. Instructors will have items for you to purchase if desired.

Education Continues in Fresno with David

July 25 & 26, 2010

For those of you who enjoy my Home Studio Classes and instruction, I will be hosting a class similar to my Reno Event on the Sunday and Monday after the Fired Arts Event. I know this is a lot of class study, but it is an opportunity to have some great additional fun while you are in town. Depending on the numbers the class will be held at my house or at a location in Fresno, a hotel or maybe even Duncan. This class is $225.00 for the two days and will include lunches:, instructions, color, ware, paperwork, patterns, and a very good time.
